He has been teaching here at Edison for twenty-four years, and he has mainly taught courses following the business field. This year, he was chosen as "Teacher of the Year" by the Fresno Lion's Club. Possessing both a devotion to his work and a zeal for service, Mr. Ray Franklin has shown that he has the true spirit of teaching. The guidance which he endeavors to pass on to those students who have known him, has really been helpful to them.

Dedication

It is not for anyone to say specifically to which teacher this book should be dedicated, nor can one say some person has been more deserving than another, for all teachers are deserving of this honor and all have done their part, each in his own way. The intangible can never be measured. We can only attempt to generalize — to list — those characteristics which may go toward the selection of a few from many. These characteristics, then, fall into three general categories: service, devotion, and guidance.

In selecting a dedicant, the thought of service first comes to mind. Service is one of those virtues which is hard to attain. Considerate, modest, always willing, eager, uplifting, unceasing, and above all unselfish — these things characterize service to the school, the pupils, and the community.

Linked with service is the virtue of devotion, a characteristic most often seen in dedicated people. Devotion is shown in a person through his faithfulness, understanding, patience, kindness, and the willingness to help everyone in every way. Devotion is undoubtedly one virtue which we should all try to achieve on entering into our life's work.

Guidance through inspiration is the last and one of the most important virtues, for the guiding of our young people today is one responsibility which faces all the teachers of this era. To guide means not only to lead through the chapters of a textbook, but to fulfill the needs of young people from the pages of the book of human experience. Truly, proper guidance is an important facet of today's schools for without it, our whole educational system would be useless.

The above characteristics, and many more, are symbolic of teachers everywhere. Furthermore, we recognize these symbols here in the teaching staff at Edison and as shown through the dedicants of this yearbook.

Therefore, we, the Inventor Staff of 1958, do gratefully, and with full acknowledgement of their devoted service and inspirational guidance, dedicate this book to Mr. Ray Franklin and Mr. Warren Moody, as a small tribute in token of our high esteem for them and for the ideals of teachers everywhere.

Having taught school at Edison since 1933, this witty and inspiring teacher has really been helpful to those who have been fortunate enough to know him. His devotion to his work and his service to the school have shown through the various duties he has been called upon to perform. One of those behind the scenes people, who are seldom seen but always necessary, Mr. Warren Moody has proved that he has earned the honor of being a dedicant of this yearbook.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

"A yearbook is a book of memories." With this thought in mind, we have compiled your Inventor for 1958. Utilizing both words and pictures, we have strived to make your book a memorandum of the fun and reminiscences you enjoyed during the past year at Edison. We have tried as hard as possible to include everyone in the book and if we have omitted anyone, we are truly sorry.

You will notice as you flip through the pages of this book, that it is printed entirely in color. This shows a marked step in the progress of the book.

I know this progress will not stop here, for with your continued support and confidence in the staff, your yearbook will become bigger and better as time passes.

With these things in mind, I'd like to express my sincerest gratitude to the entire staff for all their help and cooperation in making this book a success. I hope you will derive as much pleasure from this book as we had in putting it together, and may it ever serve to you as a reminder of old friends, good times and happy memories.

TO GRADUATES AND STUDENTS:

Never before as a nation have we been confronted with more things which need doing well. No previous era of living has demanded more wisdom, more loyalty, and more capability and willingness to accept responsibility, than does this one.

Have you ever stopped to consider the important part teachers play in your growing-up, in shaping your ideas, interests, and convictions? Next to your parents, no one deals more intimately than teachers with your talents and deficiencies, failures and achievements.

You should look to your school with great expectation, and you should look to your teachers for wise educational training. You and your parents should insist on nothing less than the best education possible. If you insist on nothing less than the best, you must be willing to pay for professional leadership and you must be willing to donate your personal effort and interest in solving your and your school's problems.

How well you will do tomorrow depends largely on how much and how often you pitch in to help improve your school. Education needs the support and guidance of all those whose lives are enriched by it and whose futures depend upon it.

Although they are not usually seen around the campus in togas and tunics as the people of the language which they study, the Ad Astra Latin members stand out in the many affairs they organize or in which they take part. The unusually large membership this year made it possible to do many things and make a success of them! The annual initiation dinner (with the final homage paid to the "gods"), the skating parties, collections for the poor, dances, and especially the final, very "Romanly Formal", Roman Banquet were some of their busy activities.

The purposes of the Home Eccers Club, organized in 1952, are to help girls develop their culinary skills, to establish and strengthen friendships, to provide wholesome recreation, and to promote good home and family life.

Membership in the club is open to any seventh, eighth, or ninth grade girl who is interested in homemaking.

Some of the activities the 26 members were engaged in this past year included making tray favors for the children in the pediatric ward of the Fresno General Hospital, and managing a booth at the Carnival.

The sponsors of the club are Mrs. W. Wynne, and Miss N. Lushbaugh.

Future Nurses

Although the Future Nurses Club was organized only two years ago, they have already become very active. Some of their activities include field trips to Pinedale, to the Sunshine School, and the County Hospital. Some girls, having earned the required number of points by attending meetings and writing reports, had the privilege of helping in the County Hospital for a few hours on Saturdays.

This club is open to all girls through grades ten to twelve and is under the sponsorship of our school nurse, Mrs. Flossie Emery.

Hilliard Streets

Edison's ever-popular senior choir appeared at club benefits, luncheons, and other varied programs all over Fresno; also at several out-of-town shows. Innumerable small groups of acts from the choir entertained quite often, consisting of an instrumental combo, boys' vocal groups, a girls' sextet, dancers, and soloists.

The highlight of the year was a variety show, given in the early spring, held quite successfully in two different places in Fresno.

Jr. High Mixed Choir

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Bue, this fine group of approximately ninety members received a "Superior" rating at the annual Music Festival at Clovis.

The purpose of having this choir is to develop personality, expression, and character through music. Music has thus enriched their lives, we feel certain.

Bengal Club

The lettermen's club was just organized this year and, being a very young club, has not been in very many activities as yet.

They started out their year by giving an after game dance, the only one held this year, selling concessions at the basketball and baseball games, and finally ending up with a bermuda-hop, which is rather unique in Edison history.

The 1957 football season, which opened with the annual Football Carnival, was a very thrilling and exciting one; and in spite of a season of more losses than wins, those high-spirited tangling Tigers displayed excellent teamwork and sportsmanship.

Extra recognition goes to the following boys, who were chosen for Fresno's All City Team. Adolph Bush, Clois Dansby, Myser Keels, Chester Rooters, and Roger Wilson. Chester Rooters, who was chosen as the team's most valuable lineman, was presented, this year, with the Harry Coffee Blanket Award. Chosen as the team's most valuable back was Adolph Bush. The team's "most inspirational player" award went to Roger Palomino; the "most improved" was Harry Miller.

LINEMEN: W. Williams, C. Rooters, J. Saldana, F. Diaz, A. Williams, C. Cotton.

Although Edison did not have a very successful season this year, Tiger Town was very proud of the fact that Edison High was one of the two teams that defeated Clovis, who took second place in the Northern Yosemite League. The score in that game was 19 to 13.
